

WELFARE WORK HAS CONTESTED OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Theater Assembly Announces Gift of Dairy of 100 Cows to Veterans Mountain Camp and Plans More Work for Soldiers—Other Clubs Active.

WOMEN'S clubs have resumed their activities and welfare work in various channels inspired by the practical results of work by the Theater Assembly was revealed last week in the announcement that a dairy comprising a hundred Holstein cows will be started for the Veterans Mountain Camp at Tupper Lake, N. Y., and tuberculosis ex-service men. The first installment of eleven pure bred and registered cows, five of them prize winners at the State Fair, were purchased by the assembly last week and shipped to the camp. The balance of the herd will be shipped within a short time.

The Theater Assembly, of which Mrs. J. Christopher Marks is president, has always had the interests of the ex-service men at heart. Last season it gave $25,000 in cash to the camp, and during the summer sent 748 new books. The library was presented under the direction and chairmanship of Miss M. E. Childs.

At the assembly socials during the season, members have frequently entertained groups of the men, and at Christmas they make the rounds of the hospitals where the former soldiers are under treatment, taking little gifts of dainties and useful articles and doing what they can to bring cheer and happiness to the men. The Theater Assembly held its first study day last Friday at the Hotel Astor. There was an unusually large attendance. The next social day will be held on November 16 instead of the following day, the club advancing the date so as not to interfere with the entertainment arranged for M. Clemenceau for November 17. During the balance of the season the social days will be held on the regular Fridays as usual.

Club women of New York will be enlisted for the sixth annual roll call of the American Red Cross by the New York County Chapter, which begins on Saturday. Mrs. Louis Ralston, chairman of the Red Cross committee on federated clubs, announces the following membership of her committee:

Mrs. Harry Lilly, vice-chairman; Mrs. Theodore M. Hardy, chairman for Brooklyn; Mrs. Park Mathewson, chairman for Queens; Mrs. Will Hamilton Baker, chairman for Richmond; Mrs. Alfred Hausath, chairman for The Bronx. The members of the general committee include Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. A. Palmer, Mrs. D. Spoor, Mrs. E. Warren Hinchaw, Mrs. Howard Clinton Russ and Mrs. Oscar A. Gemunder, vice presidents.

On November 15 the members will have the usual monthly luncheon at the Waldorf. Mrs. John B. Boniface will be the hostess of the day and after luncheon the members will attend a performance of the "Yankee Princess" at the Knickerbocker Theater. A card party for the benefit of the philanthropic fund will be held at the Waldorf on Tuesday afternoon, November 14, when Mrs. Howard Clinton Russ will be chairman.

In anticipation of the opening of its thirty-second season the Harlem Philharmonic Society will hold its second meeting of the board of directors tomorrow at the Waldorf. The officers of the society are Mrs. Everett Menzies Raynor, president; Mrs. Frank Littlefield, honorary president; Mrs. A. Palmer, Mrs. D. Spoor, Mrs. E. Warren Hinchaw, Mrs. Howard Clinton Russ, Mrs. Oscar A. Gemunder, recording secretary; Mrs. Alvah A. Swayze, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William G. Brady, treasurer.

The New York Mozart Society opened its fourteenth season yesterday with a concert at the Waldorf. The program consisted of a symphony by Beethoven, a piano solo by the composer, Mrs. Leonard L. Hill and Mr. Albert Stossel, conductor of the Oratorio Society. The operatic portion, presented by Mrs. Arthur Hubbell, with Edgar Bowman at the piano, was "The Marriage of Figaro" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. There will also be a violin solo by Master Leo Dubinsky.

Paris Season Gives Promise of More Than Usual Gayety

By MAY BIRKHEAD. PARIS, Oct. 21.

SOCIAL activities have gained great impetus in Paris within the last week, implying that the winter has every promise of being an exceptionally gay one. The rush of tourists has gone and society is resuming its normal stride and arranging its winter program, which seems to spell nothing more or less than "dancing." All supper dance houses have had their winter openings within the week. Many of them are the old standbys under new managements, but whatever they are, new or old, they prove the dancing craze shows no indication of abating. The fashionable restaurants where "on dance" are crowded every night, while those which feature food to the exclusion of dancing, with but few exceptions, are finding business rather dull, and, despite the fact that the diners dance throughout the dinner, off they go at midnight to do the rounds of the popular supper dance houses.

The Perrotet, which has been a favorite for the last two winters, gave its gala opening recently, and is going as strong as ever, but is taking on a different hue since the tourists have thinned out. Being in the same building with the Casino de Paris, it has always had more of a transient clientele than any of the others—Americans especially. Thinking they have not seen Paris in a long time, they have stayed at the Perrotet, they have found it convenient to pass day without at least one "cold bottle" and a dance or two before going on to the next one. Recently, however, Parisians have taken more of a liking to it, and the French have been in the majority.

The Grand Teddy Reopens. The 80 different Grand Teddy has reopened with a new program, "The International Flirt," which proved its great drawing card last winter. The same band was a feature at the Barrietta Americana, during the September season, where it scored its usual success. Miss Carroll, the pretty English dancer who was a feature at the Chatterbox in Biarritz, is dancing at the Grand Teddy. The new program, which is a new twist on the old, is a dancing center, and the Grand Teddy, across the street from the Grand Teddy, has reopened, and there, too, on "dinner" after midnight, and it is said that Miss Elen Maxwell is to open still another dancing house in the Rue Caumartin.

Roscoe-Miller, the Spanish singer, who has become a great favorite in Paris, is the attraction at the Clover Club for the moment. She is pretty to look upon, and though her songs are not of a late vintage, her Spanish interpretation of them is so different, and she charms her audience with her eyes to such an extent, that they forget they are paying 150 francs a bottle for champagne.

The issues of 1922 will be discussed by the Democratic candidates for State and local offices at a reception to be given by the Marquette Club this evening at the Hotel Plaza. There will be a musical program in connection with the reception. Republican issues were discussed last year by candidates at a reception by the club. McClean and Mrs. Isabel Langbotham.

Hard Luck at the Races. Sunday at Longchamps might have been mistaken for a day in the Grande Semaine. The beautiful weather swelled the attendance far beyond any previous record of the autumn season. The women were smartly dressed, so something can be said for the fashions for the first time this season. But one incident mused the day as a minor note in the big race when Jefferson Davis Col's Dauphin finished first after running a beautiful race, which was his first start to finish, never once being passed by another horse, and then the prize was taken from him at the scales because he weighed in 125 grammes short. There was, of course, great disappointment and many long faces when Dauphin's number went up first, for the favorite, Le Prodiges, carried a tremendous amount of money and had made an excellent finish, but the race had been so easily Dauphin's from beginning to end that even the backers of Le Prodiges admitted that it was a case of hard luck for the real winner when the prize went to another through a technicality. There were many rumors afloat as to the whys and wherefores of the underweight. The most persistent one was that Dauphin's saddle was changed only a minute before the race, causing him to be late in appearing, and that he was careless on the part of the trainer to permit the change of saddle without being sure of its weight. Wherever the blame may be, however, the fact remains that Dauphin ran a beautiful race and won and lost it but Le Prodiges came first for the prize.

The aeroplanes flying over the race course with their unique way of advertising the automobile show by putting the handwriting on the sky instead of the proverbial wall attracted as much attention as the races. The crowds were fascinated by the feat of an aviator in guiding his machine spilling a line of white smoke through the air, and the letters of the various makes of automobiles. The number of Americans present showed plainly that the tourist season has drawn to an end. Among those noticed were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brooks, Miss Barbara Brokaw, Col. Philip Lydie, Hawkes, second vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Reed Powell, secretary, and Mrs. Harlan F. Stone, treasurer.

India and England will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Post Parliament on Friday at the Hotel McAlpine. It will be in charge of the committee on current events, with Miss Julia Ring as chairman.

The Rubinstein Club, Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, president, will begin its thirty-sixth season on Saturday afternoon, November 18, at the Waldorf-Astoria, when Mrs. Schumann-Minkoff will be heard in a song recital. She will be assisted by Florence Hardman, violinist, and Arthur Loesser, pianist.

The choral rehearsals will be held as usual at the Waldorf on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The club will have its first evening concert on December 5.

A meeting of the Writers was held on Tuesday evening at 45 Fifth avenue. The vice-president, Ethel Watts Mumford, presided, and the speaker was Hugh MacNair Kahler, who took for his subject "A Workshop View of Story Making."

Mrs. Anna Mae White of 330 West Ninety-fifth street will give a non-partisan election dinner on Tuesday at the Waldorf-Astoria. It will be followed by dancing. Election returns by a special wire will be shown on a large screen during the evening.

The annual recital and dance for the benefit of the Voice Training Scholarship Fund, under the auspices of the National Association for American Speech, will be held at the Hotel Plaza on December 12. Miss Dagmar Perkins is chairman, and the patronesses will include Mrs. William Belknap, Mrs. Paul D. Cravath, Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Edward McVicker and Mrs. William Blair Perkins.

The regular social meeting of Sorosis, Mrs. John Lewis Childs, president, will be held to-morrow at the Waldorf. The reception will be at 12:30 and luncheon at 1 o'clock.

The program in charge of the committee on literature, Mrs. Lucy Hill Briggs, chairman, has as its topic "Glimpses of Literature." Mrs. Briggs' introduction will be followed by a talk on "Expression Among Primitive People," by Miss Jean MacKenzie. "Self Expression of the Scotch in Ballad and Verse" will be the subject of Mrs. Carroll Brown. Miss Norma McMillan, contralto, will sing, accompanied by Miss Margaret Hamill.

Three hundred members of the American Criterion Society, Mrs. Leonard L. Hill, president, gathered at the Hotel Commodore on Friday for the initial luncheon of the club's eleventh season. Mrs. Cora Welles Trow, first vice-president, was in charge of the program. "The Art of Eating Days." The luncheon was preceded by a reception, and Mrs. Hill was assisted in receiving by Mrs. William J. Sloane, Mrs. Hubert Templeton, Mrs. Alexis F. Benson, Mrs. Bedell Parker, Mrs. Sidney B. Whitlock, Mrs. John C. Turner, Mrs. Marion Zabriske, Mrs. L. A. Cushman, Mrs. William G. Demarest and Mrs. Charles V. Paterno. After the Rev. Dr. Edgar Whitaker, G. P. Chapman of the organization, gave the invocation, eight new members were received into membership.

The guests of honor, each of whom gave a brief talk, included Mr. Albert Stern, Mr. Herbert Tachady, Mrs. Edgar W. Work, Mrs. Jerome Myers, Mrs. Robert J. Sharp, Mrs. Henry V. D. Black, Mrs. Albert Stern, Mr. Arthur Judge. The afternoon's program concluded with music by professionals.

The Woman's Service League, of which Mrs. Stanley Lyman Otis is president, will give its annual dance on Monday evening, December 2, at the Hotel McAlpine. The proceeds will be used to purchase Christmas boxes for permanently disabled ex-service men at Central Islip Hospital. Mrs. Arthur Livingston Buckhout is chairman of the dance committee.

The usual monthly meeting of the Free Industrial School for Crippled Children, 41 West Fifty-seventh street, and the Lulu Tholpe Lyons Home for Crippled and Delinquent Children, Claverack, N. Y., will be held at the home of the corresponding secretary,

Mr. James Colt, well known in American racing circles. Mr. Thomas Felder, Mr. John Jacob, Mr. and Mrs. Harry La Montagne, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hobson, Mr. Louis Sherry, Commander and Mrs. Z. K. Madison, Miss Margaret Sumner, Mrs. Steinman, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Waite, Mrs. Hodotkins, the Belgian Ambassador and Baronne de Gailfay, Lady Sarah Wilson, Mrs. Edward Leyba, Mrs. Wibaux, Mrs. Jesse Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. K. Williams, M. Pierre Wertheimer, the owner of Epinal; Baron and Baronne Edouard de Rothschild, Duc and Duchesse de Deudon, Prince de Ligne, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cohn, M. and Mme. Jean Stern and Mrs. Herman Duryea, and Mrs. A. B. Hancock, who have not missed any of the races during the autumn season, were guests of the day. They sailed on Saturday to return to their home in Kentucky.

As to the fashions, there were many smart coats to be noted, and millinery was particularly beautiful. It was a day for little fur trimmed jackets. Shaved lamb in many shades of brown and gray was frequently seen in these jackets. One was of smoked gray lamb with gray fox collar, cuffs and band around the bottom, worn with a velours de laine skirt. Another was of a mid blue and gray in woolly lamb, and there were numbers of jackets and also long coats embroidered in a fine blue. Small fur collars and large fur cuffs were a style feature to be noted on each side of the neck and dresses were much in the majority, so it seems that women will wear black, regardless of what the dressmakers say. A very smart black velvet black dress was worn by Mme. Charlotte, the premiere of Premet. It was a coat dress made on perfectly straight lines and with a pocket-fence hem line and a dash of Indo-Chinese and embroidery on the collar and cuffs, which were outlined by black fur.

Another exceptionally stylish black dress was worn by a very smart model. It was straight with two or three folds, formed by a bit of sheer on each hip, to make it fit in at the waist line, and trimmed in a band of monkey fur down each side of the skirt and a monkey collar. The costume was topped by a big black panne hat faced with a brown tulle flounce lined in deep blue velvet. The dress was a simple, rather sticking straight up in front. Another black felt small cloche hat with a bunch of black and brown brush algeettes across the back. And a chinilla band often trimmed a small black hat worn with a short chinilla jacket.
